

Wallsend Festival 2010

Poetry Workshops and Performance at Wallsend People's Centre

As part of this year's creative activities for the 10th annual Wallsend Festival, Wallsend People's Centre is proud to host its very own poetry festival led by Wajid Hussein.

Local poet Wajid, a member of Wor Poets, is well known in the region and has performed at festivals as far afield as Washington DC. Coming from an engineering background, he takes a wry look at life and brings a unique perspective to his poetry.

The workshops are open to all members of the community who are interested in writing and performing poetry. They will be an informal and fun chance to explore identity and life experiences.

Wajid will be leading you through two workshops over the Wallsend Festival week to get your creative ink flowing. Whether you've always wanted to write or want to try something different, come along, relax, and let your pen do all the work.

The week will finish with a performance night where Wajid, will be joined by Wor Poets, and everyone will have a chance to showcase their own poetry.

Workshop dates : Monday 28th June, 7-9pm
Wednesday 30th June, 7-9pm

Poetry Performance: Friday 2nd, July, 7-9pm

All the events are at: Wallsend People's Centre,
10 Frank St.
Wallsend

To book a place please call the People's Centre: 0191 263 5029

All events are free, just bring some pens and paper

